- You need to demonstrate your knowledge, skills, and attitudes to your Assessor to gain competency in any unit.

COURSE DELIVERY AND OUTCOMES.

Each unit of the courses are comprised of theory and practical components and are listed on the website www.trans-plantraining.com.au. Courses are all based upon participants being able to demonstrate skills in the units of their course. They involve attendance to classroom sessions, and demonstration of practical skills in a work environment.

At various times through your course, you must undergo an assessment or test to show that you have learned skills, or that you have enough knowledge on the subjects being taught. If you do not perform well enough in these assessments, then you may sit them again, or elect to show how the knowledge is applied. Assessments are conducted by both written assessments, and demonstration by you in front of an assessor.

Course outcomes are described on each of the course advertising brochures. At the successful completion of the course, you will be issued a Certificate, or Statement of Attainment to show that you have successfully completed the whole course, or elements of the course. This document is important and should be stored safely, as it may be used as evidence to enter further courses within Australia.

PRINCIPLES OF ASSESSMENT AND THE RULES OF EVIDENCE

Assessors are responsible for ensuring that all Assessments are conducted in accordance with the Principles of Assessment and the Rules of Evidence.

Principles of Assessment are required, to ensure quality outcomes. Assessments should be Fair, Flexible, Valid, and Reliable as follows:

- Fairness: Fairness requires consideration of the individual candidate's needs and characteristics, and any Reasonable Adjustments that need to be applied to take account of them. It requires clear communication between the Assessor and the candidate, to ensure that the candidate is fully informed about, understands, and is able to participate in the Assessment process, and agrees that the process is appropriate. It also includes an opportunity for the person being Assessed to challenge the result of the Assessment, and to be reassessed if necessary.
- Flexible: To be Flexible, Assessment should reflect the candidate's needs; provide for Recognition of Competencies no matter how, where, or when they have been acquired; draw on a range of methods appropriate to the context, competency, and the candidate; and, support continuous competency development.
- Validity: There are five major types of Validity: face, content, criterion (i.e. predictive and concurrent), construct and consequential. In general, validity is concerned with the appropriateness of the inferences, use, and consequences that result from the Assessment. In simple terms, it is concerned with the extent to which an Assessment decision about a candidate (e.g. Competent/Not Yet Competent, a grade and/or a mark), based on the evidence of performance by the candidate, is justified. It requires determining conditions that weaken the truthfulness of the decision, exploring alternative explanations for good or poor performance, and feeding them back into the Assessment process to reduce errors when making inferences about Competence.

Unlike Reliability, Validity is not simply a property of the Assessment tool. As such, an Assessment tool designed for a particular purpose and target group may not necessarily lead to valid interpretations of performance and Assessment decisions if the tool was used for a different purpose and/or target group

Reliability: There are five types of Reliability: internal consistency; parallel forms; split- half; inter-rater; and, intra-rater. In general, reliability is an estimate of how accurate or precise the task is as a measurement instrument. Reliability is concerned with how much error is included in the evidence.

Following is a guide to what should be in the Assessment tools, to meet the “Principles of Assessment”:

- Elements addressed (to levels as defined in Performance Criteria)
- Knowledge Evidence/required knowledge addressed
- Performance Evidence/required skills addressed
- Assessment conditions/critical aspects of evidence addressed
- Context and consistency of Assessment addressed to appropriate AQF level
- Assessment of knowledge and skills is integrated with their practical application
- Assessment uses a range of Assessment methods
- Criteria defining acceptable performance are outlined for all instruments
- Clear information about Assessment requirements is provided (for Assessors and learners)
- Allows for Reasonable Adjustment, and provides for objective feedback
- Considers dimensions of competency and transferability

Rules of Evidence are closely related to the Principles of Assessment, and provide guidance on the collection of evidence to ensure that it is Valid, Sufficient, Authentic, and Current as follows:

Validity: Assessment evidence considered has direct relevant to the Unit or module’s specifications.

Sufficiency: Sufficiency relates to the quality and quantity of Evidence Assessed. It requires collection of enough appropriate Evidence, to ensure that all aspects of competency have been satisfied, and that competency can be demonstrated repeatedly. Supplementary sources of Evidence may be necessary. The specific Evidence requirements of each Unit of Competency provide advice on sufficiency.

Authenticity: To accept Evidence as authentic, an Assessor must be assured that the Evidence presented for Assessment is the candidate’s own work.

Currency: Currency relates to the age of the Evidence presented by candidates to demonstrate that they are still competent. Competency requires demonstration of current performance, so the evidence must be from either the present or the very recent past.

Following is a guide to what should be in the Assessment tools, to meet the “Rules of Evidence”:

Validity Assessment Evidence considered has direct relevance to the Unit or module’s specifications

Sufficiency Sufficient Assessment Evidence is considered to substantiate a Competency judgement

Authenticity Assessment Evidence gathered is the learner’s own work

Currency Competency judgements include consideration of Evidence from the present or the very recent past

In order to ensure that Assessment activities/tasks meet the Principles of Assessment and the Rules of Evidence requirements, which includes meeting workplace requirements, and to ensure the Reliability and Flexibility of Assessment, all Assessment activities/tasks must be validated. Please refer to the Policy and process for Assessment Validation below for more details on how to validate.

ASSESSMENT OUTCOMES:

Learners who demonstrated competency in the learning objectives covered, can achieve the following outcomes:

- C means Competent.
To achieve the qualification, learners must have achieved a Competent result for all their assessments.
- NYC means Not Yet Competent.
If students are assessed as Not Yet Competent they will be given feedback and asked to resubmit /resit the assignment / examination with revision.
- ‘RPL means Recognition of Prior Learning.
Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is a process whereby previous learning, experience, or skills gain formal recognition. Students complete an RPL Application Form and submit this to the CEO. This is a fee- based service. (This is a separate process from mutual recognition, as stated under the National Vocational Register).
- CT means Credit Transfer.
Credit Transfer is the process where Learners can claim a Unit of Competency they have completed elsewhere, for the same Unit of Competency in the course they are undertaking. Credit Transfer for a Unit of Competency needs to be considered for its vocational relevance, to be applied to a chosen course.

RECOGNITION OF PRIOR LEARNING OR CURRENT COMPETENCY

Policy Context

This procedure describes Recognition of Prior Learning or Current Competency (RPL & RCC), and how it is offered to all students.

It applies to all enrolled or enrolling students

It ensures that (RPL & RCC) provision is structured to minimise time and costs to the student, plus adequate support and information is available for the student to prepare their claim for recognition regardless of how, when or where the previous learning occurred.

Responsibilities

Assessors Conduct Assessment in a Manner That Shows:

- Impartiality - The assessor conducts the assessment in a manner that does not improperly favour, or disadvantage one person or interest
- Integrity - The assessor acts in accordance with ethical principles, and in such a way that it is clear that proper processes have been adhered to
- Openness - The assessor provides full and accurate information in an easily accessible form to those entitled to receive it.

Student Records Officer

Responsible for processing applications for recognition, and consequent adjustment to student records

Procedure

- All Teachers/Trainers must provide information and advice about (RPL & RCC) upon enrolment and prior to any formal delivery, and give students information on the (RPL & RCC) application process
- Students wanting (RPL & RCC) must be provided with the correct form from the Class Teacher/Trainer of Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd
- The Class Teacher/Trainer will assist the student to complete the form, ensure it is completed correctly, sight original documents, certify copies, and ensure evidence is attached
- Students should be enrolled and entered onto the class roll, and attend classes until a formal decision is made regarding their (RPL & RCC) application
- The Class Teacher/Trainer will accept the application for (RPL & RCC) and forward the application to Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd
- Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd then assesses the application against the assessment criteria of the units
- The applicant will be notified in writing of the outcome. Typically, this could be the student's copy of the form. Students who are unsuccessful with their application will be provided with reasons, and advice on options available to them.
- The student records will be adjusted, and a copy forwarded to the student.

Ethical Practice and Conflict of Interest in Assessment for Purposes of Recognition or Achievement Within a Learning Program

Purpose

Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd staff should avoid real or apparent conflicts of interest in the conduct of assessment, for purposes of:

- The granting of recognition
- Determining the level of skills and knowledge acquired within a program of learning.
- Assessment against the Australian Quality Training Framework
- Principles underpinning assessment under the Australian Quality Training Framework

Conflict of Interest

Conflict of interest is defined as a conflict between what is in an employee's interest, and what is in the best interest of Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd and its customers and clients, when the employee is performing their job.

- A conflict of interest arises when an employee of Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd is in a position to undertake an action or make a decision in the course of their work, that could materially benefit themselves, a member of their family or a close associate at the expense of the public benefit.
- Student RPL & RCC are based on the assessment of evidence provided by an eligible applicant, in support of their application for enrolment in a course.
- Assessment decisions within learning programs are based on evidence collected from specific assessment activities undertaken by students as part of the module or unit learning program.
- Assessment decisions determine the result awarded to the student in the unit.
- An assessor is the Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd officer responsible for conducting the assessment activity.

- Recognition decisions are based on assessment of whether the evidence provided by applicants in relation to their existing skills and knowledge is sufficient to show that the required outcomes of a module or unit have already been achieved prior to enrolment.
- Recognition decisions are most commonly made to determine whether an applicant is to be granted an exemption from a specific unit
- In some cases, recognition decisions may show that an applicant has the required skills and knowledge to gain entry to a specific course.

TRAINING AND ASSESSMENT PATHWAYS

For most candidate's assessment and training are integrated, with assessment evidence collected progressively and feedback being provided to the candidate.

The candidate may undertake a structured program of training and assessment while on the job, while off the job, or in a combination of on-the-job and off-the job environments.

This pathway is particularly suited to recruit induction and New Apprenticeships, as trainees can be provided with a mix of formal training, structured workplace experience, and formative assessment activities. Through this combination of training and assessment the candidate can acquire and demonstrate the practical skills and knowledge identified in the relevant Competency Standards.

ASSESSMENT ONLY PATHWAY

In some circumstances, an assessment only (skills recognition) pathway will be warranted. The candidate provides current, quality evidence against the relevant Units of Competency, and the outcomes of the assessment process indicate that the candidate is competent, and that structured training is not required.

This pathway can operate in both on-the-job and off-the-job environments. It is likely to be most appropriate for students enrolling for qualifications who want recognition for prior learning or current competencies, for existing workers, for individuals with overseas qualifications, for recent migrants with established work histories, for people returning to the workplace, and for people with disabilities or injuries requiring a change in career.

Candidates wishing to take this pathway present evidence that they possess the skills and knowledge identified in the relevant Competency Standards, and then a judge whether the candidate is competent. Summative approaches to assessment may be directed by the candidate (such as in the compilation of portfolios) or by the assessor (such as observation of workplace performance, requiring demonstrations of skills, and carrying out oral and written testing).

COMBINATION OF 'TRAINING AND ASSESSMENT' AND 'ASSESSMENT ONLY PATHWAYS'

Where candidates have gained competencies through work and life experience and gaps in their competency are identified, or where they require training in new areas, a combination of approaches may be appropriate.

In such situations, the candidate may undertake an initial assessment to determine their current competence using an 'assessment only pathway'. Once current competence is identified, a structured training and assessment program may be established to ensure that the candidate acquires the required additional competencies. These would be achieved through a 'training and assessment pathway'.

It is important to note that each of these assessment pathways leads to full recognition under the Australian Qualifications Framework. An individual's access to the assessment process should not be adversely affected by restrictions placed on the location or context of assessment beyond the requirements specified in this Training Package

Recognition of Prior Learning and Current Competency

The competencies in this Training Package may be attained in a number of ways:

- formal or informal training and education;
- work experience
- general life experience, and/or
- any combination of the above.

All assessment pathways must provide for the recognition of competencies previously attained. Competencies achieved and currently held by individuals can be formally assessed against the Units of Competency and qualifications in this Training Package, and should be recognised regardless of how, when or where they were achieved.

It is the candidate's responsibility to provide sufficient evidence to satisfy assessors that they currently hold the relevant competencies. In determining whether a candidate has presented sufficient evidence, the assessor must ensure that the evidence of prior learning is:

- authentic (the candidate's own work)
- valid (directly related to the current version of the relevant endorsed Competency Standards)

- reliable (shows that the candidate consistently meets the Competency Standards)
- current (reflects the candidate's current capacity to perform the aspect of the work covered by the standards)
- sufficient (covers the full range of elements in the relevant Unit of Competency and addresses the four dimensions of competency, namely task skills, task management skills, contingency management skills, and job/role environment skills).

CHEATING AND PLAGIARISM

Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd will not condone cheating or plagiarism in any form by any learner, and will ensure that these standards are upheld. Trainers must be diligent in reducing potential opportunities for cheating and plagiarism to occur, by adhering to our Policy on Cheating and Plagiarism.

Definition of Cheating

Cheating is defined as obtaining or attempting to obtain, or aiding another to obtain credit for work, or any improvement in evaluation of performance, by any dishonest or deceptive means.

Cheating includes, but is not limited to: lying; copying from another's test or examination; discussion at any time of answers or questions on an examination or test, unless such discussion is specifically authorized by the instructor; taking or receiving copies of an exam without the permission of the instructor; using or displaying notes, "cheat sheets," or other information devices inappropriate to the prescribed test conditions; allowing someone other than the officially enrolled student to represent same.

Definition of Plagiarism

Plagiarism is defined as the act of using the ideas or work of another person or persons as if they were one's own without giving proper credit to the source.

Such an act is not plagiarism if it is ascertained that the ideas were arrived through independent reasoning or logic or where the thought or idea is common knowledge. Acknowledgement of an original author or source must be made through appropriate references; i.e. quotation marks, footnotes, or commentary.

Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to the following: the submission of a work, either in part or in whole completed by another; failure to give credit for ideas, statements, facts or conclusions which rightfully belong to another; failure to use quotation marks (or other means of setting apart, such as the use of indentation or a different font size) when quoting directly from another, whether it be a paragraph, a sentence, or even a part thereof; close and lengthy paraphrasing of another's writing without credit or originality; use of another's project or programs or part thereof without giving credit.

It is cheating to:

- use notes or other resources without permission, during formal testing
- hand in someone else's work as your own (with or without that person's permission)
- hand in a completely duplicated assignment
- take work without the author's knowledge
- allow someone else to hand up your work as their own
- have several people write one computer program or exercise, and hand up multiple copies, all represented (implicitly or explicitly) as individual work
- use any part of someone else's work without the proper acknowledgement
- steal an examination or solution from a Trainer/Assessor.

It is not cheating to:

- discuss assignments with your Trainer/Assessor or other students, to understand what is being asked for
- hand in work done alone, or with the help of staff
- get help to correct minor errors in spelling, grammar, or syntax (sentence construction)
- discuss assignment requirements and course materials, so that you can better understand the subject (this is, in fact, encouraged)
- submit one assignment from a group of students where this is explicitly permitted or required
- use other people's ideas where they are acknowledged in the appropriate way, such as referencing using footnotes, end notes, or the Harvard system of referencing.

Penalties

If you are suspected of cheating, your Trainer/Assessor will investigate to establish evidence to support the suspicion.

If there is evidence to support the suspicion, your Trainer/Assessor will notify the CEO, and set out the concerns to you in writing, requesting a time to discuss the matter. You will have the opportunity to counter the allegations made against you.

Once you have provided your information, Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd may come to one of two decisions:

- It is a minor or unintentional offence and you will need to undergo an alternative form of Assessment, such as a short oral Assessment, which may involve talking about the work or questioning. The penalty in this case is that you will receive the lowest level of competency or pass for all the learning outcomes being assessed.
- It is a serious offence and you will fail the module. Repeated offences of cheating – minor or serious – will result in failure of the module plus a record on your student file, together with the reason.

You will be advised of all penalties writing.

What if I don't agree with the decision?

If you are accused of and penalised for cheating, and believe that the accusation is unjust, you have the right to appeal against the charge. This appeal must be lodged in writing to the CEO within one week of the penalty being imposed.

The appeal may be lodged against:

- the process
- the decision
- the penalty.

The appeal will be investigated, and a decision will be advised to you within a week of your appeal. If you are having difficulties with your studies, you are encouraged to seek help from your Trainer/Assessor.

Changes to Agreed Services Process

STUDENT INDUCTION:

All students will have an induction at the commencement of their course at Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd. At this time, information will be given, to allow your stay to be as meaningful and successful as possible. Most of your questions will be answered at this time; however always feel free to ask about anything you are unsure about. All students are required to complete an enrolment form, including the declaration. This will happen as part of your induction.

This declaration is a statement that:

- You have understood and accept student requirements, rights, and responsibilities whilst at Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd.
- You understand and accept all the details provided in this handbook, and you have been offered the opportunity to request learning support.

UNIQUE STUDENT IDENTIFIER

The Unique Student Identifier (USI) scheme, enabled by the Student Identifiers Act 2014, allows learners to access a single online record of their VET achievements. The scheme also allows for reliable confirmation of these achievements by employers and other RTOs.

Unless exempt, Trans-Plant training Pty Ltd must only issue a qualification or statement of attainment to a learner after:

- The learner has provided Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd with a verified USI, or
- Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd has applied for a USI on the learners' behalf.

A USI gives you access to your online USI account, which is made up of ten numbers and letters. It will look something like this: 3AW88YH9U5.

A USI account will contain all your Nationally Recognised Training records and results from 1 January 2015 onwards. Your results from 2015 will be available in your USI account in 2016.

When applying for a job or enrolling in further study, you will often need to provide your training records and results. One of the main benefits of the USI is that you will have easy access to your training records and results throughout your life.

You can access your USI account online from a computer, tablet, or smart phone anywhere and anytime.

Do you need a USI?

You will need a USI when you enrol or re-enrol in training from 1 January 2015 if you are a:

- student enrolling in Nationally Recognised Training for the first time, for example if you are studying at TAFE or with a private Registered Training Organisation, completing an Apprenticeship or Skill Set, Certificate, or Diploma course; or
- school student completing Nationally Recognised Training; or
- student continuing with Nationally Recognised Training.

You are a continuing student if you are a student who has already started your course in a previous year (and not yet completed it) and will continue studying after 1 January 2015.

Once you create your USI, you will need to give your USI to each Training Organisation you study with, so your Training outcomes can be linked, and you will be able to:

- view and update your details in your USI account;
- give your Training Organisation permission to view and/or update your USI account;
- give your Training Organisation “view access” to your transcript;
- control access to your transcript; and
- view online and download your training records and results in the form of a transcript which will help you with job applications and enrolment in further training.

If you are an international, overseas or an offshore student please visit www.usi.gov.au for more information.

While students may create their own USI, Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd is also able to create USIs for our learners. As a part of the enrolment process, we have included on the Course Enrolment Form a section for the learner to provide their USI.

If you do not have a USI in place, we can provide you with a USI Privacy Notice so that we can apply for a USI on the learners' behalf.

For more information, please refer to the following <http://usi.gov.au/Training-Organisations/Documents/FactSheet-RTO-Student-Information-for-the-USI.pdf>. A copy of the USI Fact Sheet is also accessible from Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd, and on our website.

Security of the Learner USI

Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd will ensure the security of USIs, and all related documentation for verifying the learner's identity.

All personal information collected solely for the purpose of applying for a USI on behalf of a learner, will be destroyed in manner that will keep all personal information confidential.

This includes digital and hard-copy of records.

The following process is in place for ensuring the security of a learner's USI:

- Only authorised personnel will have access to a learner's personal information, for both hard copy and electronic records.
- All learner records, including evidence collected for verifying the learner's record, are stored in locked filing cabinets, within the head office.
- Strong passwords on all network-connect computers are in place, which is only accessible by authorised personnel.
- PowerPro RTO TMS is to be backed up weekly from the software, which will then save in our automated weekly computer systems backups

USI Privacy Notice

All learners who do not currently have a Unique Student Identifier (USI) in place and want Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd to apply for a USI on their behalf, will be issued with a USI Privacy Notice. The learner will be required to sign this form, prior to Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd setting up the learner's USI.

Issuance of Recognised Qualifications or Statements of Attainment

Once a USI has been collected and stored into Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd's database, and on successful completion of Training, Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd will provide Nationally Recognised Qualifications or Statements of Attainment to learners in a variety of different formats.

Below are some examples that are considered a Statement of Attainment, and they cannot be issued until the learner has supplied Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd with a USI that has been verified. They can include:

- A certificate
- A building industry white card
- A Verification of Competency Card

When a learner logs into their USI account, it will link to the National Data Collection, using the USI. The learner's USI account will then be able to see their records and results completed.

USI Exemption - Learner

A learner may be exempt from applying for a USI or recoding results within the USI database, if they work within an industry that could affect the security of the nation. For example, if they work in the Military, State, or Federal Police Departments.

In addition, individuals who have a genuine personal objection to being assigned a student identifier, will be able to apply for an exemption to the Student Identifiers Registrar.

If the learner is exempt from USI, learner details will not be recorded on the USI database, or on AVETMISS. This means that your Assessment results will not appear on their authenticated VET Transcript or be available via the USI system. Learners are required to sign a declaration to acknowledge this during the enrolment process.

Unique Student Identifier (USI) Policy

Purpose

To outline Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd's Policy for the requirement for, and the use of Unique Student Identifiers under the Student Identifier Scheme, in accordance with the Student Identifiers Act 2014 and the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015.

Policy

Unless an exemption applies, a Qualification, or Statement of Attainment cannot be issued to a learner who does not have a verified Unique Student Identifier (USI). In the event that a learner has an exemption from applying for a USI, the learner must be informed that their competencies will not be displayed on any transcripts prepared by the USI Registry.

The purpose of the USI Scheme is to provide an online record of learners' VET competencies, to be accessed and provide confirmation of competency for learners, employers, and other Registered Training Organisations.

Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd employees are to make learners aware of the requirement to apply for, and provide to us, their USI number when engaging in training and assessment services at Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd. In the event that Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd is unable to verify a learner's USI, Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd will contact the learner to resolve the discrepancy.

Where a learner is unable to apply for their own USI, an authorised Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd employee may apply for a USI number on the learner's behalf. Written consent and sufficient identification must be obtained from the learner, before Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd can apply for a USI on behalf of a learner.

Legislatively, Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd are not permitted to use learners' USI number as an identifier for their learners. Information about USIs will be treated with the utmost confidentiality. Once verified on our password protected data management system, any other documentation in reference to a learner's USI will be securely destroyed.

ANTI-BULLYING

Violence, harassment, and bullying are human rights issues that profoundly affect the lives of many people in Australia.

We all have a right to feel safe and respected. We all have a right to live our lives free from violence. Violence, harassment, and bullying can violate these rights. They can also impact on other rights, such as the right to Education, and the right to health. Violence, harassment, and bullying affect well-being, and quality of life.

Victims can experience significant social isolation and feel unsafe. Bullying can lead to emotional and physical harm, loss of self-esteem, feelings of shame and anxiety, and concentration and learning difficulties. Tragically, violence, harassment, and bullying can lead to suicide in extreme cases.

These are not issues that concern only children and young people. Violence, harassment, and bullying can occur in a number of different environments, including in workplaces, care facilities, and in the community, and can affect people of all ages and backgrounds.

Bullying can also take place in cyberspace: over the internet and on mobile phones. New technologies enable the spread of information, ideas, and images to large numbers of people very quickly. There are many challenges in protecting people from violence, harassment, and bullying in cyberspace.

We all have a responsibility to create a safe environment, by standing up against violence, harassment, and bullying. If bystanders take safe and appropriate action to stop bullying, we can all be a part of the solution. In the event of a situation that is considered by clients to be in violation of the Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd harassment, victimisation, and bullying Policy, report the situation to management.

Refer to your state regulatory body for more information.

LEARNING, LITERACY & NUMERACY (LLN) & INDIVIDUAL NEEDS

Language, literacy and numeracy (LLN) support is available to provide learners with advice and support services in the provision of Language, Literacy, and Numeracy assessment services. Learners needing assistance with their learning should be identified upon enrolment. Trainers and staff within Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd can provide learners with support to assist the learner throughout the learning process.

Language, Literacy, and Numeracy skills are generally included and identified in Training Products and accredited course programs. In identifying Language, Literacy and Numeracy requirements, learners are required to have basic skills in:

- Count, check, and record accurately
- Read and interpret
- Estimate, calculate, and measure

All students undertaking training are required to undertake a Learning Literacy Numeracy (LLN) Skills Check, unless the learner currently holds a Certificate III Qualification or above, or can demonstrate equivalent industry experience.

Policy

Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd offers courses in heavy vehicle licensing, high risk licensing, and civil construction incorporating load shifting equipment. Due to the high-risk nature of this training, we believe it is essential that participants have at minimum, a basic level of language comprehension and the ability of conducting calculations and written skills appropriate to the purpose intended.

As each course, the skill levels required will vary.

To establish and meet the needs of individual applicants, Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd requires all course participants to engage in a Language Literacy and Numeracy skills check (LLN). This will ascertain the applicant's capabilities and advise the trainer what areas may require assistance. Participants are encouraged to approach their trainer and discuss any concerns that they may have.

In addition, course information sheets advise students of any requirements that are applicable to the course. (For example; calculations are conducted throughout assessment)

Trainers are advised to ensure they conduct themselves in a discreet manner throughout the process.

Procedure - Language, literacy and numeracy (LLN)

Participants are to be provided with form F0010 Enrolment Agreement & Language, literacy and numeracy (LLN) skills check, prior to the commencement of training. The staff member is to allow an appropriate time frame to complete the form. They are to advise participants that it is not a test, and it will assist the trainer in determining if the participant requires any assistance. Let them know, if they don't know the answer, skip to the next question. Participants are not required to complete the skills check within the time frame allocated, simply announce that time is up and collect each form, ensuring they have included their name.

Whilst participants complete their enrolment documentation, ascertain if any individuals will require assistance.

Note it is a requirement of the High-Risk Licensing Regulatory Bodies that participants must understand and speak the English language at a level that enables the safe performance of High Risk Work, and the applicant must have the ability to conduct Calculations for most High-Risk Licence classes.

If the trainer believes the AQF level is beyond the student's capabilities, the student will be advised of the options available.

The levels are as follows:

Advanced needs:

Student will require Language, literacy and numeracy (LLN) training by an outside training provider – will most probably not be able to complete course with level of skill held.

Student may need minor assistance in the class room, or completing a task. Student may need modified delivery and/or assessment. Student may require an in-class support person

COURSE TRANSITIONAL ARRANGEMENTS POLICY

Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd acknowledges our obligation to remain informed of changes to Training Packages, and to establish transition arrangements for existing participants, and those participants who may be enrolled during a transition period. The aim of this policy and procedure is to ensure Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd is delivering the most current qualification outcome to participants, and to actively manage the Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd scope of registration. This policy is applicable to Training Package amendments, version changes, and newly endorsed training packages.

TRANSITION ARRANGEMENTS

Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd is to apply the following policy:

- The Compliance Manager is on the distribution list to receive Notification email alerts from www.training.gov.au with regard to changes to Training Packages.
- A continuous improvement form will be completed by the Compliance Manager to initiate this transition process
- Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd will transition in response to training package changes within six months from the date of release on www.training.gov.au, the transition dates as advised by state registering authorities. In exceptional circumstances, Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd will complete all transition activity within 12 months of this same date.
- Revised or new qualifications/units of competence are to be included on the Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd scope of registration as soon as possible, with the Compliance Manager being responsible for applying for the addition to scope through ASQA.
- Enrolments in new qualifications or units of competence are to commence as soon as possible, to allow participants to access the most current qualifications, and to minimise the period that participants enrolled in superseded qualifications are being managed.
- Participants who are enrolled in qualifications which are superseded part way through a training program, are to be offered and encouraged to transfer their enrolment to the new qualification once it is obtained on the Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd scope of registration. Participants are not to be disadvantaged in any way, and participants choosing to remain enrolled in superseded qualifications are to be supported in their decision. Participants are to complete or transition within a 12-month period

Procedure

The transition to new training packages will be managed by the Compliance Manager and CEO of Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd. It is critically important that high attention to detail is applied by staff who are leading this work.

- Monitoring the status of training packages. The Compliance Manager is to monitor the status of Training Packages, to remain aware of changes in the revised training package, and how these might affect Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd's scope of registration.
- Changes to training packages are to be reported to the Compliance Manager, CEO and Training Staff.
- Revised unit of competence, and the qualification codes and titles.
- Revised packaging rules for qualifications, changing the requirements in relation to the allocation of core or elective units.
- Revised units of competence, this may include the combining of two units of competence into one, or minor changes where the unit of competence has remained equivalent.
- Revised pre-requisites, co-requisites or entry requirements.
- Revised assessment guidelines which may relate to identifying new requirements, relating to trainers and assessors.
- Whilst not an exhaustive list, the common changes identified in the list above are certainly the most commonly seen in the transition of training packages. Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd staff are to be alert to these changes, and pay close attention to detail, to ensure our training and assessment remains current, and it satisfies Training Package requirements.

- Review Training and Assessment Strategies. Review the existing training and assessment strategy to determine the higher-level changes that have occurred to a qualification, and the likely changes that are required. This may include additional consultation with industry and clients to gauge their reaction to Training Packages changes, to identify new preferred electives, and to determine if there are specific industry requirements that need to be incorporated. Attention to detail must be given to minor changes.
- Keep participants informed. Take steps to inform existing participants of the changes to the applicable qualification. Before engaging with participants, ensure that the options that participants will have available to them have been fully considered. Provide information to participants, and ensure that they fully understand their options, and feel supported in any decisions they may take. Participants are not to be disadvantaged because of the transition to a new Training Package.
- Revise training and assessment materials. Undertake an analysis of the current training and assessment resources, to identify relevant changes that are required to ensure training package requirements are being met. Once these have been identified, implement arrangements via the Compliance Manager and CEO, to have training and assessment materials revised.

CONDUCT OF ASSESSMENT:

Trans-Plant Training Pty Ltd conducts assessments for all courses, in accordance with the Assessment Guidelines of the Training Package.

Your trainer/assessor will outline the assessment method and requirements for your course, as part of your course induction.

Assessment methods may involve you in:

- Demonstrating your skills
- Producing a piece of work
- Answering written and/or oral questions
- Participating in group discussions
- Developing a portfolio of work
- Making oral presentations to the group

Because of the flexible delivery options available, some subjects involve projects, assignments, and a range of other learning activities.

Trainers/assessors will provide written project and assignment outlines for these activities.

Trainers/assessors will also indicate the due date for project/activity completion when distributing outlines.

All assessments are based on units of competency developed by the industry. Students' abilities are assessed against these units of competency on a 'can do' basis. When a student can demonstrate competency or show that they can demonstrate their understanding or ability, they can be assessed as competent. If a student is not successful on their first attempt, they are provided with feedback, given advice on additional evidence required to demonstrate competence, and further opportunities to demonstrate competency.

ASSESSMENT APPEALS:

If you are not satisfied with the outcome of an assessment, you may appeal the decision. The focus of the appeals process is to listen to the student's reasons for appeal and provide explanations for how the outcomes were determined.

A summary of the procedure follows:

- Student arranges for a meeting with the Assessor and the Chief Executive Officer at a mutually convenient time
- Interview with the Trainer/Assessor, Student, and Chief Executive Officer

- Training and Assessment:
 - Reviewing a Training and Assessment Strategy
 - Feedback on Training and Assessment
 - Industry Consultation
 - Assessment Validation
 - Internal Audits
- Client Services:
 - Opportunities for Improvement
 - Training Evaluation Form

All staff and students are encouraged to complete an Opportunity for Improvement Form if they identify a System, Process, or Procedure requiring implementation or improvement.

The implementation of the actions identified in the Opportunity for Improvement Form will be reviewed and discussed at the Monthly Quality and Compliance Meetings. Following is the process for Opportunities for Improvement:

1. An Opportunity for Improvement is identified
2. An Opportunity for Improvement Form is completed, by outlining the details of the current weakness in the System, Process, Procedure, or Practice.
3. In order to focus on the solution and not the weakness, the person who has identified the improvement is given the opportunity to also identify the “Action required for Improvement”. If they are not able to identify a solution, this will be given to the Office Manager to resolve.
4. Submit the Opportunity for Improvement Form to the Office Manager.
5. Office Manager reviews the Opportunity for Improvement Form, and either reviews the suggested “Action required for Improvement” identified by the person who completed the form or identifies what they believe the “Action required for Improvement”.
6. The Office Manager enters the Opportunity for Improvement into the Opportunity for Improvement Register.
7. Office Manager either then delegates the Opportunity for Improvement to be actioned by another staff member or undertakes the Action to be completed.
8. Once actioned and finalised, the Opportunity for Improvement Form is to be filed into the Opportunities for Improvement Register.
9. The Opportunity for Improvement is reviewed at the monthly Quality and Compliance Meeting. Minutes from the Quality and Compliance Meeting are distributed to all Training and Administration staff so that they can review the Opportunities identified.

QUALITY INDICATORS

Learner satisfaction (learner engagement and competency development)

- This indicator focuses on the extent to which learners are engaging in activities likely to promote high-quality skill outcomes, as well as learners' perceptions of the quality of their competency development, and the support they receive from RTO's.

Competency Completion Rate

- This is calculated for qualifications and units of competency/modules delivered, based on data provided by RTO's on the previous calendar year's number of enrolments and qualifications completed, and/or units of competency/modules awarded.
